Gilbert M. Chase, of Haverhill, Mass, who is visiting his son Charles in this village, says the Bridgton Weas, met with-a serious accident on Wednesday noon. His son being away, he went up the stable off to teed the horse, when by some means he fell, going the whole length of the stairs, some twelve feet and striking on the hard floor. His head was badly cut, his spine, hurt, and other injuries inflieted. For some time he was insensible. His stanation was quickly discovered, and the old gentleman carried into the house, and a doctor speedily summoned. Mr. Chase is seventy-three years old, and it is feured its injuries are serious.

No. I mackerel are worth something in this market, says the Portland Argus, at least so think the men who catch them, and they are not disposed to be robbed after having landed a trip from North Bay or anywhere else. Last night some of the new of the schooner Henry Morgan (which vessel had landed a full fare from North Bay) were accosted while up lown by a chap who offered No. I mackerel for sale much below market prices. His efforts to make a sale aroused suspicion and the boys from beyond "the three mile limit" notatied their skipper, who feeling sure that their fish were being stolen laid in wait for the thieves and succeeded. with the help of an citiery, in capturing a couple of the gang who had broken and entered the warehouse of Mr. Chas. GRANTE STATE.

The Lewiston Journal gives the story told-by one of the crew of the ship Granite State of Portsmouth, Capt. Thomas Fity of Boston master. On her recent voyage to Hong Kong, with a cargo of dil, the ship's barber, a Manilaman, disappeared when the ship was a few weeks out. We copy below the story of what followed:

About four o'cleck in the afternoon the second and third dates and two men, who were of the searching party, rushed up out of the forward hatch, saying that Leon was after them with a knile! Then it was that Capt. Fitz began to take in the situation. Leon was inside.

The forward hatch of the ship was an opening perhaps six feet square. Down this hatch the insine stowaway had lowered himself to tite third deck. On each side of the windlass was what is called the hawser-hole, through which the two anchor chains run; both feading to the chain locker. In this dark and dismrt place the lunatic, armed with a knife, had stowed himself away. Through the hatch and the chain holes we could see a light glimmer at intervals, showing that he had matches and was groping his way about in the darkness. All about him was the inflammable cargo, petrcleum oil, as well natches in a cargo composed of oil and powder! The captain actualty turried pale with right, and I don't wonder that he did. By m Professor Lemaistre, of Limeges, describes a new disease which is at the present time quite prevalent among the school children of France. It is known among the comeson people as percehe, and is contagious. It consists in an abrasion in the corners of the mouth, which become little ulcers and sometimes bleed; it lasts from two to four weeks. The description given of it corresponds to what is commonly called in this country a "cold sore" or "fever blister." In the sore Lemaistre has found a microbe, which he calls streptococcus plicatils. Those have been found in drinking water, and it is surmised that they have been transferred to the lips of a person, thence to the edge of a cup, and thus all who used the edge of a cup, and thus all who used the surmised the 5500 children who attend the thirty-it wo schools of Limoges, and has found all, or one in seventeen, affected with the disease.

The reelection of our entire Congressional delegat on by very large majorities will be hailed with satisfaction beyond the limits of the State, and affords additional proof that the intelligent workingmen of Maine understand the important bearing of the tariff and other questions upon the prosperity of the people.

In our own city it is most gratifying that we have elected a solid Republican delegation to the State Legislature by a decisive vote, and the election of our three Penouscot Senators is equally well assured. A most systematic and desperate effort has been made to elect the Democratic candidate for Sheriff, and in many towns the means resorted to have been successful in cutting seriously into the vote of the Republican candidate; but it is hopes that when the vote of the entire county is received Mr. Whitney will prove to have won a victory over all the devices brought to bear against him. Come to our annual convocation Mid festive toy and social cheer, count the blessings of the year,

When Mr Silsby had finished reading it, he was liberally applauded, and there were general congratulations upon the fact that e had not only elected an able President, I'it had secured a good poet, thus getting r such more than our money's worth A Wyoming Bear Story:

(From 'A Book: Mountain Hermit, ' by Al fred Terry Bacon in St Nicholas for August At he nearest ranch on the western side of the mountains there lives a German who was the first pioneer to bring cattle in among these valleys. Not long ago this old fellow built a new cabin for himself it the foot of the mountain Before his house was finished he went out one way and killed a fine, fat deer. Bringing ay and killed a fine, fat deer. Bringing ay and killed a fine, fat deer. Bringing the carcas home at night, hanging it up many the back of his house, and then anging a blanket over the door-way which was still without a door, he went to bed. It is also soundly, but there dimly seemed to him up be some disturbance about the house during the night; and when he went out in the morning every bit of his fine deer was gone, and the bear tracks up and down the mountain side showed what had become of it. But game was plentiful and it was not long before his deer was replaced by a big-horned sheep, which is the most tender and juicy meat that ever was eaten

There were sixty-five persons present including Mrs. Eunice Silsby, of Aurora, aged eighty-three years, and several of her children, grandchildren and greatgrandchildren, representing four generations. Mrs. Serena Silsby, of Amherst, only sixty-two years of age, who in like manner represented four generations. Lewis Silsby, Leonard Silsby and Mrs. Susan Goodwin, each of whom have passed their seventieth birthday. The beautiful day, excellent collation, social intercourse and music were thoroughly enjoyed and all will never again go bear-hunting with a shot-gun
